

Zoonotic Diseases Project:
Workshop for Development of Community-based Zoonotic One Health Initiative Training course

23-24 June 2011
SEAMEO TROPMED Network Office, Bangkok, Thailand

Under a project supported by the Rockefeller Foundation, SEAMEO TROPMED Network was contracted by Asian Disaster Preparedness Center (ADPC) to develop Community-based Zoonotic One Health Initiative Training Package. Dr. Sandra B. Tempongko, Deputy Coordinator of SEAMEO TROPMED Network is the Programme Director under this contract. At this stage, wish to convene a consultative meeting/workshop with the following objectives

- Consider on the expected roles of community level workers to be involved in the training
- Define the educational goal and objectives of the curriculum based on the roles and competencies needed
- Develop the outline/framework of the course (Content)
- Identify possible module writers